WHAT ARE YOUR NUMBERS?

Men whose nerves are letting down usually present some of the following symptoms:

Headaches (as in Fig. 6), hollow eyes and pale, thin, haggard face (Fig. 4), palpitation of the heart (Fig. 3), loss of appetite and impaired digestion (Fig. 2), torpid liver (Fig. 1).

At the Fourth ward meeting house Friday evening was given a most enjoyable social in honor of First Counselor Andrew Watson, of the bishopric of that ward, who has resigned from the bishopric on account of failing health.

Brother Watson came to Provo in 1868, and has since that time been a member of the Fourth ward, since June 22, 1877. A most interesting program was carried out in which all the various organizations of the ward were represented.

During the evening a handsome gold watch and chain were presented to Counselor Watson, on the inside of which was engraved the following: "Presented to Andrew Watson by the members of the Fourth Ward, Provo City, Utah, Jan. 26, 1900."

An elegant luncheon was served. B. K. Bullen, Provo's oldest living ex-mayor, today reached the 70th year of his life, and to commemorate the occasion a family reunion was held at the home of Mrs. Elsie Bullen, at which the gentlemen were the honored guest. The affair was in the form of a surprise to him and was a complete success.

Between fifty and sixty friends of William Farrer surprised that gentleman Friday evening, the occasion being his 70th anniversary. A general good time was spent.

A NEW LITERARY CLUB.

A new literary club was organized Friday evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. S. H. Allen. The first work to be taken up will be the history of the United States. It is the intention to meet every Monday evening, and social pleasures will occupy part of the evenings. The members are: Dr. and Mrs. Allen, Dr. and Mrs. Taylor, Prof. and Mrs. H. H. Hinkle, Mrs. George S. Taylor, J. W. Knight, Stewart, Misses J. H. Hinkle, Mrs. Ida S. Dusenberry, May Ashworth, Mr. A. L. Booth, Prof. Wolfe and Lund, Mesdames Thomas, Taylor, Clark, Winkler, Clark, Henry Yates, Pryor, Brown, Jones, Cliff, Hinkle, McBride.

Old People Made Young.

J. C. Sherman, the veteran editor of the Deseret, (Michigan) Echo, has discovered the remarkable secret of keeping old people young. For years he has avoided Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Indigestion, Heart Trouble, Constipation and all the ailments of old age. He writes: "It can't be praised too highly. It gently stimulates the kidneys, tones the stomach, aids digestion and gives a splendid appetite. It has worked wonders for my wife and me. It's a marvellous remedy for old people's complaints." LOGAN.

Testimonial Reception to Dr. Ormsby—Death's Harvest—Court Cases.

Special Correspondence. Logan, Cache County, Jan. 28.—Invitations are out for a grand testimonial reception to be tendered in honor of Dr. C. Ormsby, superintendent of Sunday schools of Cache County, on Saturday evening, February 3, 1900, at the Brigham Young College hall. Elder Ormsby has labored in the Sunday schools for a period of 35 years past unbrokenly, and just recently returned to his home in Logan, Utah, after a visit to his parents in California. The affair is in charge of the Sunday school officials and the following program will be rendered:

Overture, "Weary Not," Orchestra. Opening hymn, "Weary Not," Congregation. Male quartet, "Sleeping on This Pillow," Select Voices Logan Schools. Address, "The Harvest of Death," by Dr. Ormsby. Ass't. State Sup't. W. H. Apperley. Duet, "Ole Wooden Rocker," Mrs. Salena B. Parker and Mrs. Apperley. Address and presentation of Memento, "Dr. J. M. Tanner. Response, "Stake Sup't. O. C. Ormsby. Solo, "Good-bye," Mrs. Apperley. Overture, "The Harvest of Death," Orchestra. Address, "The Harvest of Death," by Dr. Ormsby. "Rock of My Refuge" and "Doxology," Congregation.

DEATH'S HARVEST.

Mrs. James W. Quayle, Jr., died at her home in this city this morning from a hemorrhage of the stomach, after one year, and the child was stillborn. The many friends of Mr. Quayle sympathize with him in his heavy affliction.

QUARTERLY CONFERENCE.

The regular quarterly conference of Elder Stake is in session here today. Elder Teasdale, of the quorum of the First ward, presiding. Bishop Preston are in attendance.

COURT CASES.

Yesterday Judge Hart found in favor of the plaintiff in the case of Anna West and L. W. Snow vs. Robert Kewley, in the sum of $123.24, interest and costs of suit. The amount is for rent due from defendant to plaintiff for the use of hay land.

R. G. Dunn & Co. vs. Thatcher Milling & Elevator Co. Decision dismissing the case upon the ground that suit was brought before the statute of limitations had run.

Lodwick P. Crofoot, receiver, vs. G. W. Thatcher. Ordered that depositions in the case be made public.

FAIRVIEW.

Only Case of Smallpox Now Well—Coop Store Sold Out.

Special Correspondence. Fairview, Sanpete Co., Jan. 27.—Since the smallpox scare here, Fairview has had one case in our town that has been quarantined, and pronounced smallpox. It was a boy, 16 years old, who was now recovering from the symptoms of the disease have been discovered. No one has been able to study out where that boy got the disease, as he had not been exposed in any way, had never been out of town, nor been in contact with any one who had the disease.

DEATH OF WILLIAM A. ALLRED.

Last Sunday night, William A. Allred, an old and respected citizen of this place, aged about 67 years, was struck with paralysis so severely that he died two days after, on Wednesday, and was buried today.

The funeral services were held in the meeting house, which was almost filled with people. Many of those present were relatives from the neighboring towns of Milburn, Pleasant and Spring City, and many comforting words were spoken by a few of the Elders of this place, as well as several of his relatives from Spring City.

Mr. Allred was a quiet, unassuming and peaceable man, upright and industrious.

PRICE.

OUTLAW WANTED THE HORSE. The Sorry Experience of Joseph Nougier.

Price, Carbon Co., Jan. 27.—A few days ago, Joseph Nougier of this place is said to have had a rather bitter experience in the famous Robbers' Roost country. He is one of the prominent sheep men of the eastern part of Utah. It has been the custom of Nougier and his sheep men to drive their flocks into the San Rafael and San Juan mountains for winter range. Nougier came in early this year and established himself in the San Rafael hills, opening a store at the crossing on Green river, which he called San Rafael. He put in his stock of general merchandise, built a ferry boat and this is the way his stationery reads:

Joseph Nougier, dealer in general merchandise—hay and ranch supplies—ferry boat in high water. Headquarters for Robbers' Roost gang.

Five days ago he received a message from J. M. Miller's family at Murray, Utah, that one of his family was sick and asking Mr. Nougier to go to the Robbers' camp, some forty-five miles from the Robbers' Roost, and bring him a horse, not far from the camp and walking over that portion of the country which he could not make under saddle. He had delivered the horse, and went back to where he had left his horse, only to find that it was gone. He walked back home, it taking him the night of two nights and a day, the horse of J. M. Miller's family. The thief left a note saying he was in need of the animal and saddle more than the owner, and giving his name. The note was signed "Robbers' Roost gang, Jack Moore by name. He has been often reported as dead.

EUREKA.

Thrilling Experience with Foul Air—J. H. McCarthy's Narrow Escape. Special Correspondence.

Eureka, Jan. 28.—John H. McCarthy, who has been in the city for a number of months at the Keystone mine, came very near losing his life by being overcome by foul gas Saturday afternoon. McCarthy, who had been shoveling ore in the underground workings, went to work in a stop between the 800 and 900 levels of the mine at about 11 o'clock in the morning, and when he came up to find that the mine was filled with foul gas. McCarthy was brought to the surface by his fellow citizens generally. The long confinement has been a severe trial to most of them, both financially and socially, and it is no wonder they appreciate their freedom. McCarthy is unusually free from sickness at the moment. Schools are well attended. Principal Enoch Jorgensen expressed the hope that the school would be better than the faculty had dared hope for, after the smallpox scare. Much dancing are still forbidden by the board of health, but all other public and private gatherings are being held as usual.

WILLARD.

Clever Capture of Housebreakers—New Sunday School Organized.

Special Correspondence. Willard City, Boxelder Co., Jan. 28.—The stolen articles and the money that were taken from E. P. Cordon's home last Sunday have been recovered. On Tuesday last County Sheriff H. H. Cordon found the two men who were suspected of the burglary, and learning that they had started west, took the train as far as Blue River, where he was told they had been boarding a freight train. He followed, expecting to overtake them at Terrace, but on arrival there found they had got the start of him one hour and a quarter. The chase, he telegraphed to the next station, telling the conductor to search the train and after the third search, they were found hidden in the vestibule of the mail car. They were taken into custody at Carlin, Nevada, and on the arrival of Sheriff Cordon, he brought them to Brigham and next day they made a full confession, and returned the stolen articles and money. One of the culprits was a boy aged 16 years, from Denver, the other, aged 19, from Illinois. They are now in the county jail awaiting the next term of court.

CATARH OF THE STOMACH.

A Pleasant, Simple, but Safe and Effective Cure for It.

The stomach has long been considered the next thing to incurable. It is often a foul taste in the mouth, coated tongue and if the interior of the stomach could be seen it would show a slimy, inflamed condition.

The cure for this common and obstinate trouble is found in a treatment which causes the food to be readily, thoroughly digested before it has time to ferment and irritate the delicate mucous surfaces of the stomach. To secure a prompt and healthy digestion is the one necessary thing to do and with normal action is secured, the catarrhal condition will have disappeared.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

POCATELLO, IDAHO. Business for Court—Scarlet Fever Case—Other News.

Special Correspondence. Pocatello, Ida., Jan. 26.—The district court convenes here next morning, with several interesting law suits will be disposed of, along with the usual great number of court cases of minor importance.

We have had one very bad case of scarlet fever, from which death resulted. The disease was of the 22nd inst. and strict quarantine was observed and no more cases have come to notice so far.

The health of the people, like the weather is excellent—could not wish for anything better in these regards.

Business keeps on the improve, with all classes of provisions necessary for the sustenance of the human family going skyward at a rate calculated to make a person wonder where it will end. Wages, however, keep at the same old standard, quite a contrast.

The shophen have nearly all been dropped from nine to eight hours per day commencing with the 22nd inst. and the business of the city is going on as usual. M. P. & M. J. F. Dunn and party from Salt Lake City, were visitors through the shops yesterday on a tour of inspection.

MESA, ARIZONA.

Interesting Missionary Reception—Growth and Prosperity of Mesa. Special Correspondence.

Mesa, Maricopa Co., Jan. 22.—The returned missionaries of the Maricopa Stake of Zion held their annual reunion yesterday, January 20th, in the large "Mormon" tabernacle, which was filled from 10 o'clock until 10 o'clock, and evening sessions.

There were on the stand nearly fifty returned missionaries who had labored in Denmark, the Netherlands, South Africa, in the German and Swedish Islands, Northwestern States, California, Southwestern States, among the Indians and in the M. I. A. case. The time spent in the field was 100 years, at an expense estimated at $75,000. Geo. F. Ellsworth of the presidency of the Ninetieth quorum of Seventy presided.

The program was a very interesting one; twelve of the Elders related their experiences while laboring in the vineyard. The experiences covered a lapse of years from 1850 to 1890, and although the speakers were of various ages, they were all men of mature years and had been enough to endure, all were unanimous in the statement that the time spent in the active missionary work was the most profitable of their lives. Interspersed between the reports were songs composed and sung by Elders while abroad. A good feeling prevailed and all enjoyed themselves immensely.

LOCAL PROSPERITY.

The City of Mesa is forging ahead in business enterprises. The influx of returned missionaries is making the city better, scattering more money among the people.

The dry weather, however, continues, though the grain crops, which are many inches high are not suffering.

TREES FOR WINDBREAKS.

There is nothing adds more to the comfort of a farm or a large number of days in the year than a good substantial tree windbreak. How to place a good tree to the best advantage is the question. The best place for a tree is a good place to the house, barn, feed-trough, orchard, garden, etc. and the kind of trees best adapted to the purpose, form a problem that is in the respect of the same to one man that it is to another.

The principal delicious trees that succeed in the west are cottonwood, boxelder, Russian mulberry, silver maple, green ash, white ash, green ash, black walnut, wild cherry and burr oak. In addition to these, several other well known species can be successfully grown. The hardy, or nettle-tree, has a natural disposition almost as wide as that of the boxelder. It grows rapidly under cultivation. It is a good tree for the house, barn, feed-trough, orchard, garden, etc. and the kind of trees best adapted to the purpose, form a problem that is in the respect of the same to one man that it is to another.
